How to Fight the High Cost of Living

The Newest Thing in Toilet Accessories—A Dainty Card Case—Whitening the Hands—Tan and Subburn—Face Powder—Astringent Tonic—Do Not Omit the Daily Tubbing.

THE NEWEST THING.

This is what a skilful young lady did and here is the result of her efforts—a dainty card case, which also holds a purse and handkerchief, the very things that every woman wants when she goes out to shop or to make a round of afternoon calls.

The outside of the case can be made of silk or linen, and be sure you choose the color that matches the costume you will wear when you are using it.

Whether you line the case with the same color is a matter of personal taste, but most people prefer to use white silk, as this is very well suited to the purpose.

To make the outer covering, cut a piece of fine white tailor's canvas seven and a half inches long and five and a half inches wide. Lay this on the material and fold the silk (we will suppose you have chosen silk for the outside) over the canvas, tacking the edges and arranging the corners carefully. Take another piece of canvas the same size and cover it in the same way with the lining silk.

Next cut two pieces of canvas, each five and a half inches wide, and three and a half inches long, and two pieces of lining silk, each seven inches long and six and a half inches wide. Double the strips of silk, lay a piece of canvas in each, and tack the latter to the former so that it does not slip out of place.

Convenient Fittings.

Now place these two pieces on the previously made lining, leaving a space in the center. Be sure that the canvas edges are all quite straight and true, and that they fit each other accurately.

Turn the edges of the pockets over on to the canvas of the lining and herringbone them to the canvas.

The third little pocket (which holds the purse) requires a smaller piece of canvas, five and a half inches wide, and two and a half inches long. Cut the upper corners off and cover both sides with lining, turning the raw edges over and herringboning them to the canvas.

The edges of the two fabrics are next tacked together, then very firmly and neatly oversewn and the stitches hidden with a trimming of fine silk cord. A tiny purse (which can be bought at any fancy shop for about a quarter) is stitched to the outer and inner pocket.

WHITENING THE HANDS.

When several hours are given for leisure and it is not necessary to place the hands in water, the following lotion should be employed after taking the hands out of the water. Housekeepers or those who assist occasionally with household work will find it particularly nice.

Honey, one ounce; lemon juice, one ounce; Eau de Cologne, one ounce. This lotion is preferably used before retiring, so that the action on the skin may remain undisturbed. Cotton or silk gloves of ample size

SECURITIES IN THE LOCAL MARKET

Following is the weekly letter of John C. Cutler, Jr., & Co. Business conditions throughout the United States show very little change this week, retail trade being moderately active and wholesale business in most lines fairly good.

We live in a land of prosperity and freedom where the people and the government are the best in the world. The writer has traveled 20,000 miles over this old world of ours, and has never yet seen a more honest, moral, good and upright class of people than are the Mormon people. The Mormon people live in the tops of the mountains where the pure breezes blow, and they are bringing up their children to serve the living God in truth and righteousness, and the children, as a rule, are healthy and strong; and the boys and men, as well as the girls and women, are pure and virtuous, kindly of disposition and hospitable, and their light is shining so that all the world may see their good works.

In Utah and Idaho crop prospects continue exceptionally favorable, and from the fruit sections reports are of an optimistic nature, so the outlook is encouraging.

Local securities are in fair demand and supply. The books of the Utah-Idaho Sugar company close tonight for the quarterly dividend amounting to $165,000, payable the end of the month. The Zion's Savings bank pays its quarterly dividend today. Most of the other banks, the Amalgamated Sugar company, Beneficial Life Insurance company and the Consolidated Wagon & Machine company will pay regular dividends in the next thirty days.

TRIO OF WIVES ARE GRANTED DIVORCES

Salt Lake, June 21.—Three divorce cases were granted by Judge George G. Armstrong yesterday afternoon. No regular matinee was held before Judge C. W. Morse because of the latter's absence from the city. Most of the cases on the divorce calendar were continued one week.

Because of his wife's extravagance, W. C. Dale asked for and was given a decree from Izora Dale. Dale testified that his wife kept him constantly in the hands of the loan sharks, to whom he was forced to resort in order to obtain money to meet the steady stream of bills incurred by his wife. This extravagance, he alleged, amounted to extreme cruelty.

Otto A. Visel's attention to other women furnished the burden of Mattie Visel's pray for relief. She testified that Visel frequently kept company with women spending his money upon them and flaunting his unfaithfulness before his wife. The decree was entered.

Florence Eckert was given a decree from J. B. Eckert on a showing of failure to provide.

TO whom it may concern: My wife having left her home without any cause, in the future I will not be responsible for any bills contracted by her in my name. Conrad Bruestle.

QUINTETTE HAS A PLEASING PROGRAM

It was in a measure unfortunate that the visit of the Schumann Quintette should have come so late in the season, for their performance last night at the Congregational church merited a much larger attendance and those who did attend were highly appreciative of the program given by the well known Chautauquus players.

The quintette includes the following musicians: Carl Lampert, first violin and leader; Norman Weller, violin; Prof. Frederick Haines, pianist; Miss Elsie Haines, organist; and Nicolai Zedler, cellist. All are individually competent and their ensemble work all that could be desired.

Aside from his ability as a performer, the leader, Mr. Lampert, possesses a wide knowledge of the folk lore of the different countries, and his explanations of the different numbers on the program, pleasingly given, were an additional treat.

The cello solo, played by Mr. Zedler, was exceptionally well done and showed him to be a cellist of no mean ability.

The following program was played, commencing at 8:30 and closing at 9:45:

Selection from "Tannhauser" Wagner
"Pastoral Symphony" Beethoven
"German Dance" Mozart
"German Dance" Dittendorf
"Menuet" Beethoven
"Folk Music" Beethoven
"Folk Music" Komza

(b) Selection from "Hans and Gretel" Humperdinck
(c) "Waltz" Tchaikowsky
PART II.

"The Rosary" Nevin
"Humoresque" Dvorak
"Spring Song" Mendelssohn

ROSE SUNDAY IS INAUGURATED IN OGDEN

With the month of June comes the rose. Most of all the coast cities now have rose Sunday as a day to call attention to this beautiful natural expression of God's love. This will be inaugurated in Ogden with a rose service tomorrow morning at the First Presbyterian church and doubtless will become a regular annual day in this church.

Miss Lila Jost will sing "My Heart Ever Faithful," by Bach, and "Thou Will Keep Him In Perfect Peace" by Sparks.

Mrs. Myrtle Hallinger-Higley will sing at the union meeting in the afternoon, as well as at the evening service.

Colored people's dance at The Hermitage, on June 26. Come and see the fun.

PATTERSON IS TO BE HEARD TOMORROW

Catch-my-Pal Patterson, the most prominent temperance speaker in the world, will arrive in Ogden from Denver tomorrow morning. He is to speak twice in Salt Lake City tomorrow, after speaking at a union meeting in the First Presbyterian church at 2:30. Salt Lake desired him for the afternoon service also, but through the generosity of Heber Scowcroft, he was secured for Ogden. Heber Scowcroft is the one to whom Ogdenites are indebted for this opportunity to hear Mr. Patterson.

It is hoped that not only all churches, but also those who are allied with no church, will attend the union service.

The address then to be given is the story of the great work and the inspiration of the worker who has well nigh transformed cities from one of the great chains of habit.

IS TO SELECT MUSIC FOR THE CHOIR

Director Joseph Ballantyne of the Ogden Tabernacle choir will leave Monday for New York to be absent until the first of September. He will first attend the Pittsburgh International Eisteddfod to be held in Pittsburgh, Pa., on July 2, 3, 4 and 5. This musical contest will surpass anything of its kind ever held in America. There will be more large choruses enter from the United States and Europe than at any previous contests ever held in this country. Prizes for the large choruses alone amount to $7,500.

From Pittsburgh Prof. Ballantyne will journey to New York, where he has engaged the most eminent teachers for a summer's course of study.

Before returning the large music publishing houses in New York and Boston will be visited, and Prof. Ballantyne will select the repertoire of music to be studied by the Ogden Tabernacle choir in preparation for the Panama exposition trip to California.

WIZARD OF THE WASATCH RETURNS

Salt Lake City will be hostess to the entire intermountain region August 28, 29 and 30 when the Wizard of the Wasatch will come down out of the hills to view the transformation wrought in Utah. The Wizard will be attended by his numerous wards and all Utah will join in making merry during his visit. Parades, in daytime and night, street fairs, society circus, hippodrome events, band concerts, special features at all parks and resorts and similar gaieties will make this festive celebration one of the biggest successes since the Pioneer Jubilee in 1897.

The first day of the carnival August 28, will be given over to affairs historical with the reception of the Wizard and a floral pageant as the chief event; the second day will be military and civic with appropriate pageants and the third day will see the march of the merry-makers and a grand finale in the shape of a grand electric pageant and fun-making upon the streets. Fireworks display will be included during the different days. This year's will be the first of annual celebrations to show recognition and appreciation of Utah's growth and prosperity. An idea already embodied in the "Potlatch" of Seattle, "Mardi Gras" of New Orleans, "Ak-Sar-Ben" of Omaha, "Priests of Pallas" of Kansas City, "Veiled Prophet" of St. Louis and similar affairs.

DOCTORS TELL OF DEATH OF MC CARTY

Calgary, Alberta, June 21.—Medical evidence tending to show that Luther McCarty died in the prize ring May 24 as the direct result of a blow to the jaw administered by Arthur Pelkey, was presented by the crown yesterday at the trial of Pelkey, who is charged with manslaughter.

While differing on minor points with Dr. H. H. Mosher, who conducted the autopsy on McCarty's body, Dr. H. Merritt, the crown's principal witness, agreed that the clot of blood on McCarty's brain had been caused by the blow delivered by Pelkey in the first round of the bout. A. L. Smith, counsel for the defense, attempted to show that Dr. Merritt was contradicting evidence given yesterday by Dr. Mosher.

Dr. Chambers, the only other witness for the day, was closely questioned by the defense, which sought to prove that there had been considerable disagreement between the physicians present when the autopsy was held, as to the exact cause of death. Dr. Chambers admitted that he had told Dr. Mosher after the examination that they should make no statement regarding the subluxation. Dr. Chambers explained this by saying Dr. Merritt had stated that in his opinion the dislocation was not the only cause of death. He asserted, however, that there never had been any doubt that the blow indirectly had caused death.

The crown closed its case until witnesses for the defense have been heard, after which the prosecution will present witnesses in rebuttal. The defense has six witnesses yet to be examined. When adjournment was taken indications were that the trial would not be concluded before next Tuesday.

WEEKLY MARKET SUMMARY CHANGES

New York, June 21.—Tension in the stock market relaxed this week and there were no traces of the excitement occasioned by last week's severe break and buoyant recovery which followed it. Trading fell away to light volume, and although sentiment remained comparatively cheerful, the market gradually eased off from the higher level attained on the upturn. Cessation of urgent short covering and diminution of outside buying as prices rose, coupled with realizing by traders, tended to lower prices.

Another influence discouraging traders on the long side of the market was the tendency of foreign holders of American securities to sell here. London took advantage of the higher prices to unload stocks, showing no disposition to follow the market upward. Berlin appeared in this market as a bidder for money to carry over the midyear settlement, but home requirements were pressing and no loans were placed, although it was thought that, as the settlement drew nearer Berlin might raise funds here by increasing its offer above the 5 1/2 and 5 3/4 per cent unsuccessfully bid for 60 days money. Call money and short term funds remained easy here, but little money was available for the longer dates.

There was little in the way of news with a direct bearing on the stock market. The supreme court handed down a number of railroad rate decisions, the most important of which—the Missouri rate cases—were closely in line with the preceding Minnesota decision. Falling prices of copper metal reflected unfavorable conditions in that trade.
